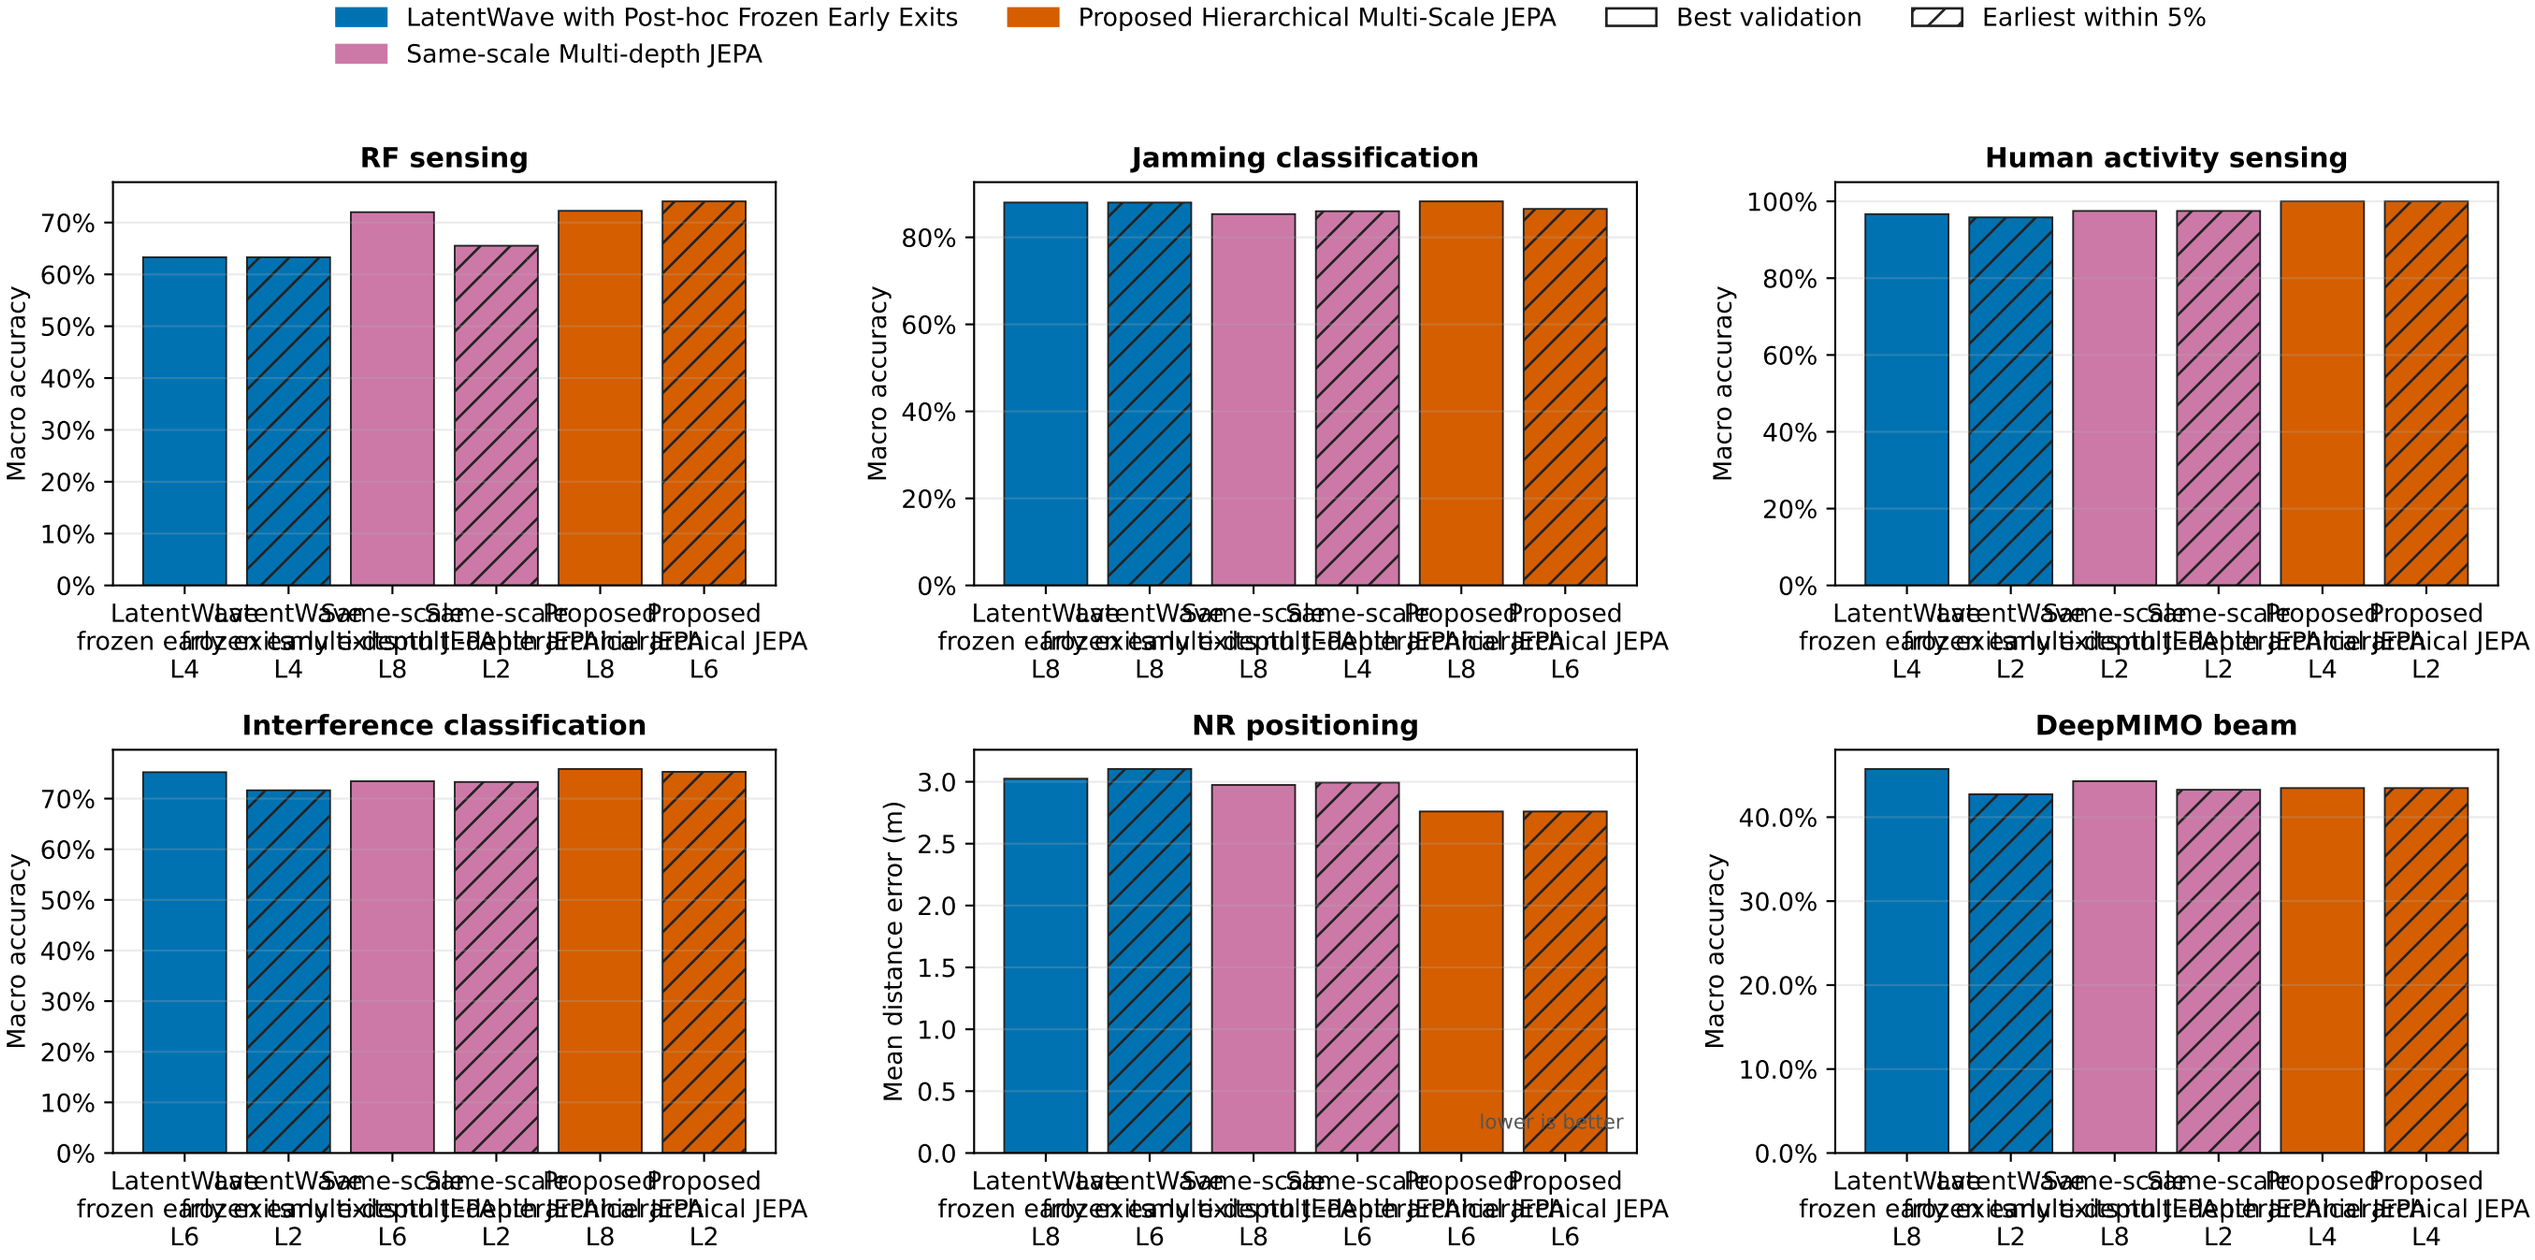
Validation-selected exits and held-out test performance



Exit labels show the selected encoder depth; selection never uses the test split.